

Se graduó en Medicina Veterinaria en 2008 por la Universidad de Milán. Entre 2008 y 2012 se trasladó a Estados Unidos, donde obtuvo el título en Acupuntura con la IVAS (International Veterinary Acupuncture Society) y la licencia de terapeuta en Rehabilitación con el Canine Rehabilitation Institute.

En 2012 se licencia en Estados Unidos a través del programa de validación ECFVG (Education Committee for Foreign Veterinary Graduates), mientras realiza programas de internado y fellowship en varios hospitales universitarios de California. Desde 2013 regresa a Italia para ejercer en su ciudad natal, Udine. En 2018 se certifica en manejo del dolor crónico veterinario y en acupuntura médica occidental.

Es entrenadora certificada en fitness canino y en osteopatía canina. Ha sido presidenta de la Sociedad Italiana de Fisioterapia y Medicina Deportiva Veterinaria (SIRIMSVET), fundadora de un grupo de estudio moderno de acupuntura (AGOVEM) y miembro de la recién creada asociación sin fines de lucro Asociación Italiana de Veterinarios en Medicina Deportiva (AMESVI). Colabora con diversas universidades e instituciones para promover estudios de investigación clínica.

Ha sido jugadora profesional de voleibol, actualmente practica tenis y mantiene una gran pasión por los deportes y por la interacción del cuerpo con las exigencias físicas.

Gets her degree in Veterinary Medicine in 2008, University of Milan.

She goes off abroad in the United States from 2008 to to 2012 where she gets her Acupuncture degree with the IVAS (International Veterinary Acupuncture Society) and her Rehabilitation therapist license with the Canine Rehabilitation Institute.

In 2012 she becomes licensed in the US through the ECFVG validation program (Education Committee for Foreign Veterinary Graduates ECFVG) following meanwhile internship and fellowship programs based in a few teaching hospitals in california. From 2013 up to date, she comes back to Italy to work in her native town Udine. From 2018 she is certified in veterinary chronic pain management and Westen Medical acupuncture.

She is a Certified Canine Fitness Trainer and Canine I osteopathy.

She had been the president of the Italian Veterinary Physical Therapy and Sport Medicine Society (SIRIMSVET), founded a modern acupuncture study group (AGOVEM and she is part of the newly founded no-profit association Italian Association of Sports Medicine Veterinarians (AMESVI), She collaborates with various Universities and institution to promote clinical research studies.

She has been a professional volleyball player, now playing tennis and keeping great passion toward sports and how the body interacts with physical demands.