

Darryl L. Millis

DVM, DACVS, CCRP, DACVSMR

es catedrático de Cirugía Ortopédica, titular de la prestigiosa Cátedra Acree de Medicina de Pequeños Animales y director del Centro CARES de Medicina Deportiva Veterinaria de la Facultad de Medicina Veterinaria de la Universidad de Tennessee. Diplomado por el American College of Veterinary Surgeons y fundador del American College of Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation, el Dr. Millis es autor de más de 60 publicaciones, 80 capítulos de libros de texto y 110 abstracts/proceedings. El Dr. Millis es uno de los principales profesores del Programa de Certificación en Rehabilitación Canina de la Universidad de Tennessee, es autor de Dog Owner's Guide to Hip Dysplasia y coeditor de Essential Facts of Physical Medicine, Rehabilitation and Sports Medicine in Companion Animals; Textbook of Small Animal Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation y Essential Facts of Physiotherapy in Dogs and Cats, y ha recibido el prestigioso premio AVMA Career Achievement Award in Canine Research y el premio Iams Paatsama de la Asociación Mundial de Veterinarios de Pequeños Animales. Actualmente es ex presidente de la Asociación Internacional de Rehabilitación Veterinaria y Fisioterapia. Además, es el fundador de MyLameDog.com, un recurso para propietarios de perros, y MyLameDogsVet.com, un recurso para veterinarios, sobre afecciones ortopédicas comunes. Sus principales intereses de investigación incluyen la osteoartritis y la rehabilitación física.

Dr. Darryl Millis is Professor of Orthopedic Surgery, holds the prestigious Acree Endowed Chair in Small Animal Medicine, and is Director of CARES Center for Veterinary Sports Medicine at the University of Tennessee College of Veterinary Medicine. A Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Surgeons and a founding charter Diplomate of the American College of Veterinary Sports Medicine and Rehabilitation, Dr. Millis has authored over 60 publications, 80 textbook chapters, and 110 abstracts/proceedings. Dr. Millis is a primary faculty member of the University of Tennessee Certificate Program in Canine Rehabilitation, is the author of Dog Owner's Guide to Hip Dysplasia and a co-editor of the Essential Facts of Physical Medicine, Rehabilitation and Sports Medicine in Companion Animals; Textbook of Small Animal Physical Therapy and Rehabilitation and Essential Facts of Physiotherapy in Dogs and Cats, and has received the prestigious AVMA Career Achievement Award in Canine Research and the World Small Animal Veterinary Association Iams Paatsama Award. He currently serves as the Past President of the International Association of Veterinary Rehabilitation and Physical Therapy. In addition, he is the founder of MyLameDog.com, a resource for dog owners, and MyLameDogsVet.com, a resource for veterinarians, regarding common orthopedic conditions. His primary research interests include osteoarthritis and physical rehabilitation.